

Roommate Request/Room Placement Policy

The Enrichment Studies Unit follows the Queen's University Residences process for Room Assignment.

Room and roommate preferences may be submitted via the on-line application, however we cannot guarantee preferences.

In order to request a specific roommate, individuals must select each other on their applications. If your preferred roommate has not selected you on their application, the match is not possible.

The Enrichment Studies Unit will make every effort to place students attending a program as part of a group in rooms in close proximity to one another. The Enrichment Studies Unit cannot guarantee that students attending as part of a group will be placed in rooms in a wing of a residence building dedicated solely to their group.

The Enrichment Studies Unit will make every effort to accommodate requests for specific room types (single/double/triple/quad). In the event that the number of requests for a specific room type exceeds the availability of that room type, the Enrichment Studies Unit will use a lottery to assign rooms of that room type and will place the remaining students in available rooms.

Please note that availability of single/double/triple/quad rooms may be limited.

Requests to change roommate and room assignments may be considered but are not guaranteed.
