Late Arrivals & Early Departures

Any participants who will be arriving late or leaving early must let the office know as soon as possible. ESU reserves the right to have students arriving late wait until an appropriate time (morning break or after lunch break) to enter class to minimize disruption to the instructor’s lesson and other participant’s experience.

Residence Information

Residence placements are released upon arrival and will remain firm. Roommate requests are not guaranteed. Please refer to the Roommate Request/Room Placement policy. Participants enrolled in the residence option, will be assigned rooms in the Smith House Residence. Each evening, participants must be in their own room with lights out by 9:30pm.

Some things that you may want to bring to the program:

- Clothing: appropriate clothes for classroom (including labs, theaters, gyms, etc.), activities (dance, sports, etc.) and outdoor walking and games. Long pants and close toe shoes are required in labs and some activities
- Writing tools (pencil case)
- Sunscreen
- Raincoat
- Water Bottle (that may be refilled)
- Camera
- Sunglasses
- Toiletries (toothbrush, toothpaste, soap, shampoo, washcloth)
- Alarm clock
- Bath towel

- Favorite pillow and blanket – not required as standard bedding is provided
- Ear plugs (for residence if you are a light sleeper)
- Snacks (non-perishable)
- Anything additional mentioned in your confirmation email or waivers (if applicable)

Code of Conduct

All registrants reviewed the ESU Code of Conduct during the registration process and will be required to adhere to it during the entire program.

Drugs & Alcohol

Program participants are not permitted to possess/consume drugs or possess/consume alcohol. The Enrichment Studies Unit has a “Zero Tolerance” policy for drugs and alcohol and students found to be in violation of this policy will be sent home immediately at their own expense.

Meals

Queen's University is NOT a nut free environment. As a courtesy to participants with allergies, please refrain from bringing nut products to campus. The dining hall will accommodate participants based on the medical information provided in your online profile.

Breakfasts, lunches and dinners will be served in the Leonard Hall Dining Hall and participants will have a wide range of foods from which to choose. Vegetarian, Halal and gluten-free options are available. Day of arrival: Dinner in the Dining Hall will be provided to participants, arriving during the regular arrival period, once registration is complete.

For more information or for a list of ingredients or products used in the Leonard Hall cafeteria, please contact Events Services at 613-533-2223, or visit the Food Services website at FoodServices. We recommend that students bring snacks with them if they want to eat outside of regular meal times.

Supervision

All Student Supervisors are Queen's students who have been specially selected for their enthusiasm for working with students. All of our Student Supervisors are trained in First Aid & CPR. A specially selected first aid coordinator works closely with Campus Security to ensure the safety and well-being of participants. All participants will attend an orientation with their supervisor and group, and are given a Campus tour. Supervisors live in residence with students. Supervision ends at program departure time.

Courses

Participants will be attending courses taught by Queen’s students, or community professionals with an affiliation to Queen’s University. Instructors have worked hard to create courses which will engage participants and expand their academic experience. Participants may use state of the art labs and use high-tech equipment; all will be challenged to think creatively or challenge their assumptions.

Evening Activities

Participants will be taking part in a variety of activities during the evenings of the program. All students will have the opportunity to participate in all planned activities.
